Waukegan In Danger Of Serious Floods

WILWAUKEE, Wis., April 26.—The threatened several parts of Waukegan today and residents of the south shore feared the loss of their homes through continued crumpling of the shore as the result of rains the last twenty-four hours, and the weather forecaster's predictions of continued downpours today and tonight. At mid-day, however, the rain had ceased.

HUGE 'AD' GAIN FOR NEWSPAPERS OF U. S. SHOWN

Bureau of the Publishers' Association Reveals Growing Business.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Newspaper advertising throughout the country during 1920 amounted to more than $200,000,000, an advance of $50,000,000 over that of the previous year, the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association reported today. Newspaper advertising space has gained in favor as a medium of determining results and of sure economy, the committee reported. Increase of service to advertisers has made necessary the opening of a San Francisco office to supplement the Chicago and New York offices. The results of market surveys and statistical research were eagerly sought by advertisers and bankers, as well as several booklets and other literature. Total gross income of the bureau was $58,124. Expenses amounted to $48,581.

BIG PROBLEM LOOMS
The American Newspaper Publishers' Association, meeting in annual convention here tomorrow, will be faced by the most important problem with which it has been confronted in years. These include: Wage adjustments.

Taxation.
Threat of strike in the news print industry.
Maintenance of advertising scales. The newspaper business, in common with other industries, has reached a point where wage adjustments are vitally necessary, as an insurance against actual loss, it was pointed out today by some publishers. While this is a question which must be worked out individually by each publisher, it will receive the benefit of the convention of the research by the association's labor bureau.

ments are vitally necessary, as an insurance against actual loss, it was pointed out today by some publishers. While this is a question which must be worked out individually by each publisher, it will receive the benefit of the convention of the research by the association's labor bureau.

LITTLE LABOR TROUBLE
Any adjustments which might be made, it was said, would be effected only after friendly conferences with the employees. There has been less labor trouble in the newspaper business than any similar industry and it was declared to be the intention of the publishers to maintain this amicable relation.

The new postal zone rates on second-class mail, by which the country is divided into eight zones, becomes effective July 1. It was said that the association might appeal to congress to abrogate or at least adjust these new rates.

The publishers were expected to add their voice to that of every other line of business in advancing repeal of burdensome taxation, particularly the excess profits tax.

PAPER SITUATION SERIOUS
The forty-eight locals of the International Brotherhood of Pulp Sulphite and Paper Mills Workers, have voted 6388 to 5 to reject the proposal of the manufacturers for a 30 per cent wage cut. The workers asked a ten per cent increase. If a strike results when the present agreements expire between May 1 and 11, more than 25,000 workers and 60 mills will be affected. The International Paper Company was reported to have withdrawn all contracts after May 1. Government reports recently showed fifty days' newspaper supply in the hands of publishers or en route.

Certain advertisers have undertaken to obtain a revision downward of ad rates. While these have increased an average of 41 per cent in the last 18 months, the cost of production—wages, newsprint and other materials—has advanced considerably more in the same period. Publishers here today declared it would be "business suicide" to cut ad rates at this time, in the face of increasing costs.

BRIAND'S STAND IS ENDORSED BY PARIS CHAMBER

Premier Is Greeted By Cheers When He Talks of Coercing Germany.

By NEWTON C. PARKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, April 26.—Premier Briand was given a vote of confidence on the German indemnity issue in the Chamber of Deputies today. During the course of his address, in which the premier declared that to be acceptable to France the German reparations proposals must be larger than those made by the Germans at London, Andre Tardieu attempted to interpellate the premier. The question of interpellations was then put to a popular vote and was rejected. This was accepted as a vote of confidence in the policy of the premier.

"France is ready to act on May 1," said the premier amidst cheers from the deputies.

Another great burst of applause greeted the premier when he referred to Premier Lloyd George's statement in the British House of Commons yesterday, that England would approve of the occupation of the Ruhr district of Germany on May 1, if the German reparations proposals were unacceptable.

"France and Great Britain were in full accord at the Hythe conference. I am fully confident that the United States only will take the initiative in transmitting the new German proposals."

The premier added: "We can no longer accept Germany's word. We must have acts. The German guarantee was ad-

Funding of British Debt To America Is Planned

By W. H. ATKINS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Funding of the British debt of $5,000,000,000 due the United States will not wait upon settlement of German reparations, nor any other foreign or domestic fiscal problems, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon declared today. The state department soon will notify Great Britain that this government is ready to proceed with the negotiations, to convert the demand notes held by the treasury into long-time obligations. This government is ready to begin the discussions, Secretary Mellon said, and speed them to a conclusion.

Lord Chalmers probably will sail at an early date from London and handle the question for England, probably with the assistance of the British ambassador, Sir Auckland Geddes.

Great Britain, it now develops, has for some time been eager to press the debt question to a settlement, but has been compelled to wait pending the formulation of a definite policy on the debts of Europe by the president and his cabinet. Secretary Mellon's discussion of the debt question today left no doubt that this government's policy has been determined, although no official disclosure was made either of the plan which the treasury may offer, or the mode of procedure which probably will be followed.

War Mothers To Hear Talk By U. C. Man

Kenneth Craft of the Federal vocational board in the University of California will be the speaker Thursday afternoon before the Oakland War Mothers' meeting in Memorial hall, city hall. Craft will outline the methods of offering training to the federal vocational students in the university. The program is arranged under the department on vocational training of the local chapter of war mothers, of which Mrs. Caroline Hill is chairman. A concert by Miss Margaret Avery and her orchestra will precede the lecture. Mothers of sons and daughters who participated in the world war are particularly invited.

Witnesses To Tell Of Villista Murders

DEMING, N. M., April 26.—Details of the invasion of the United States by the rebel troops of Francisco Villa in the raid of March 9, 1916, on the border town of Columbus, N. M., will be recounted in the district court beginning probably late today in the trial of the sixteen alleged Villista raiders charged with murder in connection with the raid.

More than a dozen residents of Columbus, witnesses of the raid and killing of 17 American citizens, including one woman and eight soldiers, will testify. One of the chief witnesses will be Mrs. W. T. Ritchie, widow of a victim of the Villistas. Her husband was dragged from his room in the Commercial Hotel of Columbus by the Mexican raiders and shot and killed, she said.

ZONING OF TWO DISTRICTS WILL BE CONSIDERED

Alameda Council Calls Special Meeting To Investigate Proposed Changes.

ALAMEDA, April 26.—A special meeting of the council will be held this evening to consider reclassification of two apartment house areas in the south side. Application was made for this reclassification at the meeting last Tuesday, but owing to the press of other matters and the lack of information which the council had regarding the matter it was decided at that time to hold a special meeting tonight. There is also a possibility that the ark question will come before the council. Representatives of the residents of the neighborhood of Encinal and Dayton avenues and other sections affected by the proposed reclassification will be present.

COAST MOOSE TO URGE PURCHASE OF HEARST HOME

California Boosters Want the Pleasanton Property For National "Havenrest."

The campaign to secure the Hacienda, near Pleasanton, from the Phoebe A. Hearst estate to be converted into the "National Havenrest" of the Mooseheart Legion of the World, will be carried to the national convention of the Loyal Order of Moose to be held in Toledo, Ohio, late in June, by a delegation of Californians headed by A. Vander Naillen Jr., regent of this district of the Mooseheart Legion.

Included in the boosters for the California site for the national Mooseheart home will be James J. Davis, secretary of Labor and director-general of the Moose order, according to an announcement today of Vander Naillen.

One hundred and fifty thousand copies of the Toledo Moose magazine containing a lengthy article telling of the advantage of the Hacienda as a national home for the Moose lodge have been distributed to Moose men all over the United States as a part of the efforts of the Californians to bring the home to this country.

This article recounts the visit of a committee of the national Moose lodge which recently visited the Hacienda to study its possibilities as a national home. It is pointed out that besides the Hacienda there are sites under consideration at Louisville, Ky., and at Birmingham, Ala. Selection of the site will be one of the principal items of business in the national convention at Toledo this year.

President Harding Tells Lofty Motives of Press In Peace and War Time

united in cordial support of our President, in full confidence that he will find the right path for us to follow in this worldwide welter of confusion.

"I give you the only toast it is our wont to offer on these occasions: 'The President of the United States, Warren G. Harding.'"

HARDING ACKNOWLEDGES WORK DONE BY PRESS
The following letter from President Harding was read:
"Dear Mr. Noyes: I would be very grateful if on the occasion of the annual luncheon of the Associated Press you would express to the gathering my great regret that public engagements make it impossible for me to accept the invitation to be present. The opportunity to meet so pleasantly a company of fellow newspapermen, such as will there be gathered, presents a real temptation to play truant and join you; but it seems quite impossible.

"As a newspaper publisher I am disposed to arrogate to myself a bit of special qualification to judge the value of the journalistic press has rendered to our country in the difficult period through which we have passed, and which is not yet ended. I know how earnestly and effectively the press tried to hold up the hands of all who were carrying forward our nation's activities during the war. On the other hand, my service in public life gave me some special insight into the relations between the government and the instrumentalities of publicity. No more unqualified, intelligent and patriotic service was rendered to the nation, and the great cause, that has so freely given by the newspapers. Looking back upon it as one of the chief assets on the side of the national morale, I can speak a continuance of the lofty motives that inspired it, and of the generous considerate helpful attitude.

MUTUAL TOLERANCE, MODERATION TO BE REPAID
"The world and our own nation have yet manifold numerous problems to solve and hundreds to bear. I know that among those entrusted with national administration there is the ardent wish to serve with whatever of ability we may possess, and without reservations or personal interest. Nothing would give me more pleasure at this time than to know that the administration would be able to do so, and retain the lavish measure of good will and confidence that has been accorded to it thus far. Mutual tolerance and moderation will, I am sure, be amply repaid in accomplishment for the good of the country we all love and wish to prosper."

"Most sincerely,
"WARREN G. HARDING."
FORMER AMBASSADOR TELLS OF GOOD WORK
After the President's letter was read, Noyes introduced Davis. Davis said in part:

"One would confess himself ignorant of past history if he had not the acquaintance with the Associated Press and its work, for verily there is no speech nor language where your voice is not heard; your line has gone through all the earth and your words to the ends of the world. Day unto day you utter speech, and night unto night you show knowledge. Yours are the eyes of Argus, and into your ears are breathed the secrets of princes and peasants, of prophets, priests and kings. Carrying the classical figure a step further, yours is the voice of Stentor at whose sound the earth itself trembles.

"Manifestly, such an endowment provides opportunities not enjoyed by ordinary mortals, and equal correlative responsibility for their proper use. It is the rubbing of your lamps that calls out of the void that great and powerful genie whom we call Public Opinion, lord and master in this democratic age of the lives and destinies of men. Whether he comes as a benevolent despot or as a blind and destructive tyrant depends primarily—I had almost said entirely—upon the press. The newspaper is the great educative institution before which even colleges and universities must bow, and the immeasurable company of your readers are the voters whose education is imperative to self-government is to survive. Upon the information you give us we must order our lives. Nor does it detract from the devoted labors of editorial sanctuaries to say that their considered comment, great as its influence may be, is secondary in its influence upon public opinion to the news column. The decisive factor is the kind, quality, quantity and form of the facts which are fed into the public mind in the guise of news. To be the purveyor of so vital a commodity is a very great and a very solemn responsibility. I congratulate the Associated Press because by the general verdict of mankind, it has performed this duty without partisanship, and in an earnest quest of the truth where it might be found. On this rests the general respect and public confidence which the Associated Press enjoys.

ESSENTIAL TRUTH IS TO GET FACTS
"It takes an experience in public life to drive home the vital connection between governmental policy and the daily news. On the personal side, of course, politicians shrink from publicity, even as the modest flower shuns the sun, and although sometimes they succeed in overcoming their aversion to the limelight, it is not without a struggle. But the essential and indispensable thing when any line of action is proposed is to get the facts to the people. That done, the majority under our theory of government must decide, and I, for one, believe they can be trusted to decide with wisdom.

"Naturally, in view of past and present events, I am thinking at the moment in terms of the foreign relationships of the United States. To a large and increasing extent these lie in the keeping of the daily press. History, I think, will show that occasions are rare when those in charge of foreign relationships can blaze out an independent path. In the words of Lincoln, they do not control events but are controlled by them, and they must adapt their course to events as they unfold and to the public opinion of those whom they are called upon to serve. If this opinion is fed with distorted facts, unworthy suspicions or alarming rumors; if every careless utterance by thoughtless and insignificant men is to be given prominence in print, if every casual difference of view is to be magnified into a crisis, sober judgment and deliberate action become impossible. It is far easier, as most of us know, to raise a storm than to quell it.

"It is a good omen that American newspapers unquestionably are giving more space to foreign news than in former times, and much more space proportionately than are their foreign colleagues. Perhaps at no time in our previous history was it more necessary that we should accurately know and understand what is passing in the rest of the world.

has the right to decide, but the rest of mankind is well within its rights in calling upon us for decision.

FOREIGN POLICY IS IMPORTANT FACTOR

"The constitutional requirement of a two-thirds vote in the Senate to ratify a treaty had its origin in the jealousy of some of the thirteen original states toward their neighbors; but Rhode Island is no longer afraid of New York, and Maine does not shudder at the thought of Texas. Is there any reason today why the same Senatorial majority which can adopt a declaration of war and pass the most far-reaching and important statutes, cannot be equally trusted to advise and consent where treaties are concerned? What earthly cause is there for giving to one Senator opposed to a treaty as much weight as to any two who favor it? In the era of broader national and international interests upon which, willingly or unwillingly, we are undoubtedly entering, it is of paramount concern to make certain that our vessel will answer the helm.

"That we are entering upon such an era, who can doubt? With our far-flung insular possessions, our new merchant marine, our foreign debts and investments, and our expanding trade, with our rightful insistence upon the 'open door' and our eager desire for peace, it is quite conceivable that foreign policy may become not merely an important, but the most important factor in our national life. It can be safely based only upon information transmitted with exactness and digested without prejudice."

Ex-Mayors To Talk On Consolidation

ALAMEDA, April 25.—The Chamber of Commerce community consolidation meeting will be held in the council chambers in the city hall Thursday night. Greene Mayors and E. K. Taylor, former mayors of Alameda, will have the opening and closing of the joint debate on consolidation, taking the affirmative side. Majors probably will open, and will be followed by Attorney E. J. Silver and City Attorney Locke for the negative side, while E. K. Taylor will close the debate.

The coming meeting is attracting considerable attention. It is not designed as a conclusive or decisive affair, but is simply a community gathering for the presentation of the proposed new county consolidation measure. Each speaker will be limited to twenty minutes, and an open forum will follow the conclusion of the address.

Assembly Passes Reorganization Bill

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
SACRAMENTO, April 25.—The Assembly today passed the first of the series of bills for reorganization of State government by a vote of 48 yeas to 24 nays. It was Senate bill No. 868, reorganizing the civil service, it now goes to the Governor.

The debate lasted less than an hour, and the Assembly took up the next bill of the series, the one granting general powers for the new plan.

OFFICER SOPS UP EVIDENCE SEIZED IN RAID

Police Inspector Joe Otis twice outwitted two bootleggers last night who he arrested in a raid at a soft drink parlor owned by M. A. Foley, 2200 San Pablo avenue. When Inspectors Charles Appleborn and Otis went into the place, Foley poured a quart of brandy into the sink. Otis saw a pint bottle in Foley's hip-pocket and reached over the bar and grabbed it and placed Foley under arrest.

H. W. Conrad, who was sitting at a table, had a pint of brandy in front of him. He told the officers that he had bought it from Foley. Conrad and Foley were charged with violating the national prohibition act. George McGurn, who was in the saloon at the time, was charged with having drunk it up. While Otis was taking the three men up to the jail in the elevator, Foley grabbed the pint bottle of brandy out of the officer's pocket and broke it on the floor. Otis covered the three men with his revolver, sopped up the brandy with his handkerchief and put it into a cup.

WOMAN IS WINNER
MANTECA, April 25.—Mrs. Leatha Butts defeated L. J. Patterson in a special election for the office of trustee of Golden West school. At a recent election the vote was a tie. At the special Mrs. Butts won by ten votes.

Linden Street Sewer Removal Is Ordered

Steps were taken today by Assistant City Attorney Leon Gray for the removal of the Linden-street outlet sewer, which now empties into the permanent site for the big floating drydock at the Moore shipyard. By an agreement with the Moore company the city gives the sewer territory to the Moore company, and in return it gets a new right of way through the shipping plant. The agreement further specifies that the Moore company shall construct the new sewer at its own expense when the Oakland health department so requests.

In order to prepare a deep bed for the great drydock extensive dredging operations are necessary. The present sewer outlet stands in the way of the dredger.

Baker Murder Case Is Nearing Completion

The trial of John H. Baker, charged with killing 77-year-old Emily Turner, was resumed today before Superior Judge L. S. Church with the prospect that the case will be submitted to the jury by tomorrow morning. Attorney Frank Hooper, representing Baker, placed Miss Louise Meyer, psychologist, on the witness stand in behalf of the youth, but she added her testimony to that of Dr. Jau Don Ball and others that Baker is sane.

Gang Suspect Asks Count For Probation

Prescott Rea, member of the "Thirty Strong" gang, who testified against his pals, had his case continued until tomorrow for a report on the probation officer by Judge L. Church. He is charged with receiving stolen goods. It is understood that the district attorney will not contest probation, if Probation Officer Leonard Compton brings in a favorable report.

can Government Is Urged By Pickard

H. Pickard of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway was principal speaker at the weekly session of the American Legion at the Iroquois yesterday. He spoke of the Legion as he saw it, encouraged Legion members to a more active part in the affairs of the city and county government, and the city government was directed by ex-service men.

Dr. A. D. Houghton of Los Angeles Post of the American Legion, who was a guest at the luncheon, told the work done by the state legislature for the ex-service men.

HUNTER DEFENDS PUPILS' DRIVES

Now here comes the junk dealers to voice indignation at the competition which public school children are offering to their business. Exception has been taken to the Junior Red Cross and its activities in a communication from F. E. Cole of Oakland to Superintendent of Public Instruction Will C. Wood in Sacramento.

His business is threatened with financial ruin because of the continued drives for junk in which the students engage, according to Cole. He charges that the children are being turned out criminals and beggars, alleging that they resort to stealing junk when they can obtain it in no other way.

"Schools have raised trouble with many kinds of people, but this is the first time the junkmen have complained," commented State Superintendent Wood.

Superintendent of Schools Fred M. Hunter has come forward an active champion of the Junior Red Cross Shop.

"Day Nurseries for children of working mothers, milk stations and dental clinics are receiving support through the proceeds of the children's work," he says. "The greater part of the articles reclaimed and sold have been obtained through drives in the schools among students, although some house-to-house canvassing for papers and clothing has been done. Furniture, garments and papers for the most part have been accumulated from the homes of pupils and their neighbors. Practically all the goods have been reclaimed and repaired by the children who have made useful the so-called junk

Woman's Wit Recaptures Stolen Wine

Mrs. Mary Starhas, 617 Fifth street, outwitted three burglars last night who stole a 50-gallon barrel of wine which was stored in the basement of her home at 617 Fifth street. She saw the three men rolling the barrel out of the yard into the street. Mrs. Starhas ran out of the house calling for help. She ran to a poolroom at 1675 Seventh street and told her troubles to the players.

When she told the men it was a barrel of wine everyone in the place stopped playing and joined in the chase after the wine thieves. The burglars were rolling the barrel into a vacant lot a block away from Mrs. Starhas' home when they found out they were being followed. Two of the men escaped, but one was captured by the men. He gave his name as Jim Shaffer and was later turned over to Policeman William Canning.

The eight men who captured the wine thief rolled the barrel back to Mrs. Starhas' home, where they received their reward. The wine was five-year-old claret and is worth $350.

which would have been thrown away.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE ARRANGED

Alameda county and Oakland are about to answer the call of the Salvation Army, standing on "the battlefield of life," for $30,000 necessary to complete the splendid new rescue and maternity home now under construction at Leona Heights.

The immediate need of getting the deficit now will be explained to one hundred prominent men and women at the luncheon in the blue room of the Hotel Oakland next Monday.

Negotiations are being carried today for a downtown ground-floor campaign headquarters in Broadway by the campaign committee, headed by J. Cal Ewing. Invitations were extended to Justice Curtis D. Wilbur and Justice Frank M. Angelo today to join John L. McNab, chairman of the State advisory board, and Brigadier Andrew Crawford of the Salvation Army as the luncheon speakers. C. A. Farnsworth is directing the campaign here. George Sheldon, Max Horwinski, L. H. Clay and F. B. Mellman are active members of the campaign committee.

Wrecks Car To Save Life of Dog in Road

PETALUMA, April 26.—Turning his car in order to avoid running over a dog on the road to Nicasio, L. J. Boedeker of the Lischer Music Co., Petaluma, ran into a ditch, overturning the machine. He was thrown clear of the car and landed on his shoulders, sustaining severe bruises and lacerations. The machine was wrecked, also a photograph which Boedeker was delivering.

Tribune Mystery Story Tells of Assassin's Plight

If you were to find yourself suddenly in the heart of San Francisco, as in a dream, without knowledge of your identity, what would you do? Worse still, what would you do if you were to find evidence in your pockets that you were a notorious gangster, wanted for murder?

Would you be able to go into the St. Francis as a man of wealth and influence under such handicap? That at least is what happens to the hero in H. Bedford-Jones' fascinating mystery story of San Francisco, which will be published in The OAKLAND TRIBUNE next Sunday.

H. Bedford-Jones, who in a few days will begin his series of articles on "The Truth About Fiction Writing" in The TRIBUNE, has produced one of his best short tales in "Other Men's Shoes." Watch for it Sunday.

IF YOU ARE THIN

and want to put on pounds of solid stay-there flesh, go to Owl Drug Co. or any other druggist and get a three weeks' treatment of Blood-Iron Phosphate and take one five-grain tablet with each meal. It's ten to one that you'll gain at least 2 lbs. a week; but if you aren't satisfied you can have your money back for the taking. Blood-Iron Phosphate is absolutely harmless; contains no dangerous or stimulant drugs, narcotics or alkaloids. All it does is build up the nervous system and make rich red blood. Hundreds of people right here in Oakland who have tried it say it is simply amazing to note the wonderful gain in flesh, appearance, strength, endurance, vim and vigor that almost invariably accompanies the regular use of Blood-Iron Phosphate. Better try it at once—costs nothing if it fails.—Advertisement.

Simple Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it. No matter how much dandruff you may have.

TIBURON NATIVES NOT CANNIBALS; STORY EXPLODED

Captain of Ship On Visit to Island Finds Only Shy Indians.

SAN DIEGO, April 26.—The island of Tiburon, off the coast of Lower California, is not infested by cannibals of the Ceres Tribe of Indians, as has been reported from time to time, but on the contrary is inhabited by Indians of a very shy nature, who dwell in small grass huts on the northern end of the island.

Captain George Allan Hancock, of Los Angeles, master of the yacht Velez, just returned from a 3000-mile cruise down the coast of Lower California and up the Gulf to Santa Rosalia, thus dispelling the belief that man-eating Indians wait on Tiburon for luckless adventurers or shipwrecked parties.

FIND NO CANNIBALS. Captain Hancock and his party visited small settlements along the Lower California coast and declare that civilization there is just where it stood 100 years ago. Speaking of the trip, Captain Hancock said:

"We cruised along the coast of Lower California to the charming little city of La Paz and then around and inside the gulf for 400 miles. We were all curious to stop at the much-talked-of island of Tiburon, on which cannibal Indians were believed to dwell. But although we went on the island armed to the teeth and looked for the warlike natives, not one showed up to greet our boat. Though we saw traces of their habitation, crude little grass huts and other primitive existence of their occupation of the country, we failed to make the acquaintance of any of the Tiburon people."

Americans welcome. While at La Paz, the party was greeted by a party of Mexican officials who were there to confer with some Americans regarding the starting of an American colony at Magdalena Bay, the largest settlement within 400 miles south of San Diego.

The attitude of residents of sections visited by the party is to welcome American capital and American brains in the development of their country. Years of revolution, said the captain, have left their mark at Guaymas. Here, he said, the people have been set back to primitive methods.

On account of imperfect charting of their course, the Velez was in trouble several times, Captain Hancock said. Where their chart showed 20 feet of water, only eight was found and the craft was near grounding at several points.

Lonely Italian burglar. GENOVA, April 22.—The governor of the prison at Bellinzona was obliged to ask the aid of the police to expel an Italian burglar named Moraro, who had been sentenced to two years' imprisonment followed by expulsion.

Wednesday—Comes Our Great Semi-Annual Sale of Mill-Ends and Odds-and-Ends

A bigger event this time because of larger quantities and lower prices

ER BROADWAY GET PAVING OF OIL MACADAM

ovement Planned To Reve Congested Traffic
On College Avenue.

er Broadway will be tempo-rily paved with oil macadam to the San Francisco-Sacramento railroad trestle, where a leads back to College avenue.
Commissioner Edwards announces money for the improvement will come from the regular street apportionment. The project is expected to relieve some of the congestion on College avenue.

At a week ago Commissioner Edwards gave orders to iron out the above the present pavement on Broadway. Since then the city engineers have been at work on the road. There is no money for new paving, but Edwards says oil macadam can be laid temporarily, forming the nucleus for a better pavement.

A big difficulty now is that are few improved lands along the street on which to levy assessments for street work, says Edwards. "There are mainly unimproved tracts of grass land. Some ago these lands were assessed for cuts through the hills. This assessment was about right, but could be paid. Until upper part of the hill was built up the work must come from the city budget. Under such circumstances we cannot lay an extra high way, but we do believe the paving of the street is a move, and it will be done."
complete paving, outfit and a of laborers is mobilizing in Broadway.

ian School Visited y Catholic Prelates

VERSIDE, April 26.—Bishop well of the diocese of Monterey Los Angeles, with his sister, Nellie Cantwell of Ireland, are today with a party of distinguished clergymen, visiting the Indian Institute. Others in party are Father Arthur Cantwell of San Francisco.

Indian boys and girls staged a sentimental review in honor of distinguished clergymen, following which Bishop Cantwell and party made a tour of the in-sternments of the big government school.

COURT ORDERS SUIT TO SUIT IN THIS SUIT

Either W. H. Harding, barber, grew fatter or thinner or else he changed his mind about whether his clothes were too big or too little for him, according to the testimony of
M. L. Harris, tailor, before Judge
Harry W. Pulister today.

Harris is suing Harding for $35 alleged to be the balance due on a $75 suit of clothes. Harding testified the suit was too small and that Harris promised to fix it, but didn't, and that he has been told there is not enough material there to let out the seams. Harris declares the suit was too loose to suit Harding in the first place and was taken in at his request. Harding denies he ever asked to have it made smaller or that any changes were made, to his knowledge.

Judge Pulister asked Harris if the suit could be made to fit and said if it could he would insist that it be done. Harris said it could. The case was continued to give Harding time to present expert witnesses.

they to attend the sixth annual Ad-
Masque in the Auditorium arena
May 7.

SCIENTIFIC KISS MAY COST SEER HIS LICENSE

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—A
"scientific kiss," purported to awaken dormant faculties, may cost James A. Murdock his license.
Murdock, who is almost 60 years old, advertises as being an "incomparable psychologist and clairvoyant."

Miss Billy Blackburn, 17, got the kiss. Her mother, Mrs. Sarah Blackburn, got a bill from Murdock for $199.

The board of supervisors has under consideration Mrs. Black-burn's application for revocation of Murdock's license. The latter made a sweeping denial of the charges.

Southern Women Told to Wear More Cotton

GREENVILLE, S. C., April 26.—
Women in the South who wear silk stockings and—um—other things will be the object of a movement launched here to enhance the value of cotton products.
Strangely enough the South, home of cotton, is sadly addicted to the use of silk. Therefore a movement has been started urging Southern women to wear dresses made of cotton goods alone. T. Gordon Cobb, mail superintendent, started the movement, which has been taken up by the Greenville Chamber of Commerce. Other cities will be asked to help.

Canada Not Wholly Land of Snow Banks

OTTAWA, Ont., April 26.—Those without its borders who look Canada as a land of snowbanks and wild country can take it from Dr.
Toimie, federal minister of agriculture, it is nothing of the sort.

Tea and olives are now being successfully grown on Vancouver island and a good fig crop is expected this year, the minister said recently at a meeting of local horticulturists. Fu-bert and almond trees are in full bloom and the bamboo crop is large enough to harvest for baskets and fishing poles.

Dr. Toimie believes it will only be a matter of time until Canada is able to buy its roses from Pacific coast towns within its borders instead of importing stock trees from Great Britain, Ireland and other countries.

NO, THANK YOU,
WARREN WILL REPAIR OWN CAR

The next time Clarence Warren has trouble with his automobile and some stranger offers to help repair it he will turn down the offer cold.

While he was repairing his machine which stalled at Twentieth street and San Pablo avenue last night, two young men walked up and offered to assist in the repairing of the machine.

One of the men asked for a hammer. Warren told him there was one in the tonneau. Instead of taking the hammer he took a vanity box which belonged to Mrs. Warren and ran down San Pablo avenue. Both Mr. and Mrs. Warren chased for a short distance, but lost him when he cut through a lot. When they returned to the machine the other man had fled. The vanity box contained $12, a gold lavalliere with three small diamonds and a large cameo ring. The Warrens reside at 2227 Macdonald avenue, Richmond.

"Clearing House" for American Poets, Plan

NEW YORK, April 26.—Plans are under way to establish an American shrine for the poets, to be known as the House of Poets. It was announced here today. The institution will follow, somewhat, the lines of the Palace of Song in London, and will be the home of the American dean of the poets.

The house, to be erected at a cost of perhaps $100,000, will combine the functions of club and clearing house for all Americans ever guilty of versification in any form. The first dean to be nominated for the honor of making his home there is Edwin Markham, author of "The Man With the Hoe" and many books of verse.

Committee of Assembly
Report Finds Charges
Are Not Justified.

ASSOCIATED PRESS.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Exon-

WINK OF COURT IS ALLEGED IN DISMISSING CASE

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—A wink the court was alleged to have directed at defense counsel together with certain of his rulings, brought a sudden dismissal of the complaint against Walter Lips and W. J. Anderson, deputy sheriffs, charged with bribery and extortion, at a hearing before W.
S. Baird, justice of the peace.
"We will dismiss this case and file it again in a court where the people can get their rights," said William C. Doran, chief deputy district attorney, who asserted he saw the wink.
"Case dismissed," was the only remark of Justice of the Peace W.
S. Baird.
This occurred fifteen minutes after the case was called and after the testimony of the state's most important witness had been given on all important points. Doran asserted, by "unjustifiable rulings of the court."

in filing such charges as are here presented. The charges made in said complaint are those which may without foundation, be directed against every man holding a judicial position.
The report concludes with the statement that, although the charges were given the widest publicity, the committee had "heard from no one who was in accord with complainant or his views," but had received numerous communications "commending the integrity, ability and faithful public service of the judges named."
The sub-committee had five members, all of whom signed the report.
All are practicing attorneys. They were J. E. Henning of San Anselmo, Frank L. Coombs of Napa, Homer R.
Spence of Alameda, Albert A. Rosen-shine of San Francisco, and Arthur

Mrs. Friend
Heads Ebell
Ticket
BY EDNA B. KINARD
Mrs. William Nat Friend heads the official ticket which is announced by the nominating committee of Ebell this week. The candidacy of Mrs. Friend for the presidency is being received with considerable satisfaction by the large membership of the pioneer club. She will succeed Mrs. Frederick Jewell Laird.
Mrs. Laird retires after a year in the executive office, continued ill health prohibiting any thought of further responsibility. For the past several months Mrs. Friend as first vice-president, has guided affairs and been Ebell's representative before the public, assuming the duties when the club president became too ill to carry on the important work. Mrs.
Friend was also first vice-president during the term of Mrs. Minnie Mc-Gaulay. The months which Mrs. Mc-Gaulay was obliged to spend in Canada on a business mission, placed upon Mrs. Friend's shoulders the burden of carrying the work.
Mrs. M. J. Davidson is expected to assume the present position of Mrs. Friend upon the board, with Mrs. Charles Leonard Smith as second vice-president, replacing Mrs.
William R. Davis. Retiring Mrs.
Henry T. Fish is nominated for recording secretary to succeed Mrs.
Winifred S. Bangs, who retires. Mrs.
E. H. Steele, financial secretary, and Miss Mary C. Heaton, treasurer, received re-nomination. Mrs. Frank E. Hinckley, who has acted as corresponding secretary, and Mrs. B. A.
Forrester, secretary of publications this year, will retire. Their places will be filled by Mrs. Richard H.
Genung and Mrs. Edward R. Sil-ler. Mrs. S. Aldrich will continue in the office of general curator.
Nominations for the membership committee follow: Mrs. B. S. Hubbard, Mrs. Edward C. Robinson, Mrs.
Frederick L. Bamford, Mrs. Richard Froese, Mrs. E. C. Hagar.
The election will be held next Tuesday.
Assistant Superintendent of Public Schools E. Morris Cox, and P. M.
Fisher, principal of Technical High School, will be the speakers tomorrow at the "Fathers' Night Program," which the McChesney School Parent-Teachers have arranged in compliment to the paternal side of the family. The Smith-Townner bill and what it will mean to the schools of the country will be outlined by Cox.

Best Home Treatment for All Hair Growths

(The Modern Beauty)
Every woman should have a small package of delatone handy, for its timely use will keep the skin free from beauty-marring hairy growths. To remove hair or fuzz from arms or neck, make a thick paste with some of the powdered delatone and water. Apply to hairy surface and after two or three minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be free from hair or blemish. To avoid disappointment, be sure you get real delatone.—Advertisement.

What's Happening in the Motor World

Quite a crowd of local and San Francisco automobile men motored to Colton, Sunday, to witness the ground breaking ceremonies for the mile and a quarter speedway that will be built by the North Bay Counties Speedway Association.
Jack Prince, who has been signed to supervise the construction, declares that this board oval will be faster than his track at Beverly.
One hundred thousand feet of lumber will be delivered on the site Thursday, and a crew of men is being gathered to lay the framework.
Prince sent word to the writer that the opening meet will occur on August 7, that $16,000 in prizes will be given, and that the entries will comprise the best of American drivers who will first come west for the July 4 meet at Tacoma. The tentative distance is set for 150 miles.
If the North Bay Counties officials are alive to their opportunities the new speedway should give them a lot of worth-while publicity.
A NEW OLD-TIMER CLUB
Howard Coffin, vice president of the Hudson Motor Car company, is the author of a plan to bring together the old timers in the engineering field who were in the business prior to 1910. This meeting will be held at the time of the mid-summer meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers at West Baden, Ind., May 24-28, inclusive. Mr. Coffin's idea is to arouse the interest of old-time engineers in the work of the S. A. E. and he will strongly urge that all present at this gathering subscribe to the objects of the Old Timers Club, and form an engineering section of the latter organization.
OLD DAME RUMOR AGAIN
"Mr. Clerk, a room for one more rumor." There was a lot said about W. C. Durant securing a foothold in the Studebaker corporation through the Wall Street route, and rumors flew fast. They died when the annual meeting of the Studebaker corporation was held. Mr. Durant's name was not mentioned as an officer at this meeting, and it was denied that he had any connection. A common cause of poor magneto action is dirt on the interrupter points. When the points are suspected of being dirty a few drops of kerosene will remedy the trouble and restore the parts to good working order.
CURE FOR OIL LEAK
Q.—I have tried pretty nearly every scheme to keep oil from leaking onto the brakes of my car, but I fail to be able to stop it. I have put in new felt washers every week; I have lowered the oil level, changed the oil to thicker, and everything, but still it leaks. Have you any trick that will stop it?
A.—Take some ordinary cheese-cloth and wrap it around the axle shafts. This is a sure cure, but I would also attempt to find out if there isn't too much opening around the felt washer. The washer usually fits into a metal piece and this must not be badly bent.

Belgium Pays Honor To U. S. Soldier Dead
LEGE, Belgium, April 26.—The four barges bringing by way of the canal from Verdun the bodies of nearly a thousand American soldiers dead arrived here yesterday. A Belgian military band played "The Star-Spangled Banner" and buglers sounded "taps." As the barges, which were still covered with flowers, thrown upon them by the people along the canal departed for Antwerp, Belgian cavalry formed an escort on the canal bank. At Antwerp the bodies will be put aboard a steamship and taken to New York.

Story to Be Printed After Writer's Death
MOSCOW, April 26.—A hitherto unknown novel by the famous Russian writer, Turgenieff, has just been unearthed. It is called "Life for Art." Its publication is still withheld, primarily because it is the intimate story of the author's affair with the famous singer, Yarden-Garcia. Turgenieff stipulated in the foreword that the novel is not to be published until ten years after her death.

Other factors that determine this is for these very reasons that you see some very easy riding lightweight cars, but as a matter of fact the real light car has not come yet.

INDEPENDENCE WAR IN IRELAND, IS CLAIM MADE

Statement Is Issued From Headquarters of Republican Army.

By DANIEL O'CONNELL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

DUBLIN, April 26.—"It is generally recognized that what is at present going on in Ireland is a war of independence, neither more nor less," said a statement issued today at the headquarters of the Irish republican army and passed by the Sinn Féin military council.

"In its fight for independence the Irish nation is employing as its instrument the Irish republican army—that is to say, the Irish volunteers now formally taken over by the national government. Like any other army, the Irish republican army is bound to the national government by the oath of allegiance sworn to by the individual volunteer. The text of this oath follows:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I do not and shall not yield a voluntary support to any pretended government, authority or power within Ireland hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that, to the best of my knowledge and ability, I will support and defend the Irish republic, which is Dail Eireann, against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same, and that I take this obligation freely without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, so help me God."

SUCCESS CLAIMED
"The Irish republican army is carrying out its task according to well defined principles and with a careful estimation of the means at its disposal. It is adopting the measures that, in the opinion of its command, appear most likely to win and which, in point of fact, have up to the present, completely justified themselves by the degree of success achieved."

"Having carefully weighed all of the circumstances, the Irish republican army command elected to adopt the methods of guerrilla warfare, suiting that method to the highly developed industrial, social and economic conditions of western Europe. This guerrilla warfare has many characteristics, distinguishing it from former wars of a similar type. For the first time the guerrillas have been a highly civilized and keenly intelligent people, and in addition, strongly imbued with a living national feeling, founded in education and culture on appreciably higher level than their aggressors. Hence, methods calculated to impress and overawe less developed peoples will naturally fall altogether in such a case. And this is so inherently and quite apart from the fact that such a people is well circumstanced to gain the ear of the civilized world."

DIVIDED INTO AREAS
"It was only natural that the guerrilla warfare as waged by such a people should aim at organization and system. Concerted action alone could give good results. For this purpose the country is divided into brigade areas. Those are subdivided into battalion areas and these again into company areas. The strength of these various units varies. The Irish

12,000 ATTEND IRISH CARNIVAL

St. Mary's College grounds became the Mecca for amusement lovers of Oakland last night when the carnival and bazaar given as a benefit under the auspices of the Alameda County Committee for Relief in Ireland drew a crowd estimated at 12,000.

The combined shows of Leavitt, Brown and Hughes with Jungle Land; the Hawaiian Village; the Whip; the mammoth merry-go-round; the crazy house and other features formed the biggest attraction that has ever visited Oakland.

Hugh Hogan, chairman of the committee, announced last night that the opening attendance was very gratifying.

Special added features will be given each night and the only matinee will be given next Saturday afternoon when the children of Oakland will be guests of the management, Hogan said. The carnival will be held all this week, including Sunday, May 1.

republican army command is by no means hindered to the precise nature of guerrilla warfare. That command realizes the indecisive nature of such warfare and does not seek immediate results.

The cost imposed upon England by the Irish war is estimated at about $1,000,000 sterling per week—which includes both military and police expenses. Apart from the financial strain, the English army is gravely inconvenienced by the special type of operations imposed on it."

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—William Hood, the man who has directed construction work of virtually the entire track of the Southern Pacific Company, has placed his resignation in the hands of the executive committee of the Southern Pacific Company. It was learned today, Hood is 75 years of age, but is still robust and vigorous. He is not retiring, but will seek more active fields now that railroad expansion projects are not being undertaken by the Southern Pacific.

Dr. William B. Lewitt, prominent physician of San Francisco and specialist in children's troubles, died yesterday at the age of 63. For the past 40 years he had been connected with the University of California in various capacities and at the time of his death was professor emeritus of pediatrics in the medical college. Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning.

The project of Dr. Lathrop Ellinwood to erect a five-story community apartment house in which tenants would own their apartments was protested by residents of the district wherein he proposes to build before the board of works yesterday. Ellinwood proposes to build on the block of land he owns facing Scott, Divisadero, Vallejo and Broadway.

LUMBERMEN OPEN SESSION IN FRESNO

FRESNO, April 26.—A reception last night, at which the delegates gathered with their wives, closed the first day's session of the Western Retail Lumbermen's Association convention, which opened here today with approximately 300 delegates representing ten Western States attending.

At the morning session President B. J. Boorman, of Great Falls, Mont., gave his annual address, and the reading of a letter from President Harding. "Americanism in Industry" was the subject of an address delivered by E. B. Fish of Portland at the afternoon session. H. C. Cutting of Oakland addressed the delegates on "Credits and Our Financial System."

The two cities in the field for the 1922 convention are Salt Lake City and Spokane, while Great Falls, Mont., has invited the lumbermen to hold their 1925 convention in that city.

On Thursday the visiting delegates will leave for a trip to the Yosemite Valley.

WILL OPEN FASHION SHOW
The annual Spring Fashion Show of the continuation classes in Oakland Technical High school will be held Thursday afternoon and evening between the hours of 3 and 5 p. m. and 7:30 and 9 p. m.

The protesters contend that it is strictly a residential section and the value of their property would be greatly diminished if the construction be permitted.

WRIGHT'S DRY BILL PASSED IN STATE SENATE

Measure Will Go To Assembly, Where Prolonged Debate Is Expected.

SACRAMENTO, April 26.—Without a word of debate, the Wright prohibition enforcement bill was passed in the Senate yesterday afternoon by a vote of 24 to 15.

The only member of the Southern California delegation to vote against the bill was Harry Chamberlain of Los Angeles. Dwight H. Hart of Los Angeles and Edward P. Sample of San Diego, heretofore allied with the wets in opposition to enforcement measures, switched today and voted with the dries.

Sample and Hart justified their switch on the ground that their votes merely reflected the wishes of their constituents.

Debate on the enforcement bill was squelched at the outset when Walter McDonald of San Francisco attempted to block action by insisting that the bill appear in the printed journal.

Senator J. M. Inman of Sacramento, while assent to the Wright measure, denounced McDonald's dilatory tactics in the Senate and moved the previous question. The motion prevailed, thus choking off all debate.

The measure will now go to the Assembly. There will be no previous question moved in the lower house. On the contrary, debate will be long and loud on the Wright measure when it reaches the Assembly floor, as was the case by the Senate. The bill will return to the Assembly in its original form. The bill, if it passes the Assembly, will confer upon municipalities police power to enforce the law.

The vote in the Senate follows: For enforcement—Allen, Arbuckle, Bogen, Breen, W. J. Carr, Dennis, Duncan, Edick, Gates, Harris, Hart, Harrison, Irwin, Johnson, Jones, King, Lyon, Nelson, Osborne, Otis, Rigdon, Rominger, Sample, Yonkin—24.

Against enforcement—Anderson, Burnett, Canepa, T. M. Carr, Chas. Benin, Crowley, Flaherty, Gottel, Inman, McDonald, Rush, Scott, Sharkey, Shearer, Slater—15.

Cemetery Bill Is Finally Passed

SACRAMENTO, April 26.—Assemblyman Morris' bill authorizing the abandonment of cemeteries in cities having a population of not less than 100,000, passed the senate yesterday and was ordered to the governor.

The measure, designed particularly to meet a situation in San Francisco, brought a hot debate, during which Irwin charged it would permit "real estate" to be used for burial grounds around like foothills. Scott, who led the fight for the bill, read a communication from Matt I. Sullivan, president of the San Francisco Planning commission, advocating the measure.

The San Francisco delegation was split on the bill. McDonald offered an amendment, intended to give small lot owners in the cemetery equal representation in the selection of owners of large lots. When this was rejected, 18 yeas to 22 nays, McDonald withdrew a series of other amendments.

May Day Uprising in Twin Cities Sought

MINNEAPOLIS, April 26 (By the United Press).—Circulars calling for a May Day uprising of the workers were found by federal agents here today. They were signed "Communist Party of America."

Justice department agents and local police were making every effort to block further circulation of the pamphlets and to trace the originators of the plot.

The circulars urged workers to establish a "workers' government." Federal agents appealed to regular army officers at Fort Snelling to be prepared to aid in case of a demonstration in the Twin Cities on May Day. It was understood troops were being drilled with the idea that riot duty may be necessary.

Bombings Paid For, Labor Leader Says

CHICAGO, April 26.—Bombings $100 each and sluggings $10 each, was the prevailing price in labor wars here, Otto Luedtke, former secretary and business agent of the Upholsterers' Union, testified in court. Three officers of the union, Edwin Graves, international vice-president; Roy F. Hall, business agent, and Gus T. Krueger, a member of the executive board, are being tried for conspiracy to commit acts of violence.

Luedtke testified that in a recent strike of the upholsterers six bombs had been touched off at more than 25 workmen of furniture factories slugged.

Teachers' College Measure Is Passed

SACRAMENTO, April 26.—Assemblyman Hughes' bill authorizing the conversion of state normal schools into teachers' colleges, passed the Senate last night. The Assembly had already approved the bill and it will go to the governor who, however, will be asked to sign an identical bill by Senator Jones, in accordance with an agreement between the co-authors. The teachers' college would be authorized to grant degrees.

Aircraft Regulation Is Given Approval

SACRAMENTO, April 26.—Regulation of aircraft by the state was given final legislative approval yesterday when the Senate passed Assemblyman Rensselaire's bill providing for the licensing of airplanes by the Motor Vehicle Department. The measure requires that all operators must be able to pass the tests required of army and navy pilots and prohibits "stunting" over cities of less than 1500 feet from the ground.

Flag Display Asked For 'Mothers' Day'

SACRAMENTO, April 26.—The legislature yesterday adopted a concurrent resolution suggesting to Governor Stephens that he issue a proclamation calling for a general display of flags and for other proper observances on "Mothers' day," which day on Sunday, May 14.

Music, Pageantry to Be Given by Students During Industrial Display at Auditorium

For the first time in the United States, children will offer an exhibit of classroom work in parallel competition with commercial interests next week when the Industrial and Fine Arts exposition opens the entire Municipal Auditorium. Under the supervision of the school department, an attempt is being made to show the practical education which is being offered in day, night, part-time and continuous classes in the Oakland schools. Beginning May 2 and continuing three afternoons and evenings, the public is invited to witness the results obtained in classrooms.

Four rooms are being designed, decorated and furnished by students in the industrial classes. Merchants of the city are co-operating in the movement to the extent of equipping from their stocks four duplicate rooms. The boys and girls are weaving the rugs, manufacturing the furniture, making the drapes, fashioning the ornaments, producing the pictures, even contributing the toys to the nursery. A replica of each room will be contrasted from commercial stocks. The corridors and main arena will be used to accommodate the industrial arts display.

The opera house will be opened each afternoon and evening for a continuous fine arts program. Music, dancing, pageantry and acting will be presented by students in elementary and high schools. A chorus of 300 voices will give a concert. Bands and orchestras will have places among the numbers. Children from the grammar grades will present a series of festival dances.

The Dance of the Sea Gulls, which was a part of the New Year's Duck Pageant on the shores of Lake Merritt in January will be repeated by a company of Lakeside students. Other numbers which this group of young people are rehearsing are a Temple dance, Russian dance, Grecian dance and folk dances.

TALKATIVE OLD SALTS NEEDED IN NEW BERTH

NEW YORK, April 26.—An opportunity for old "salts" to return to the sea in a new capacity—that of official guide and yachtsman—was announced today by a large American steamship company here.

The company decided that what was needed on its larger ships to answer the hundred and one questions of land lubbers, especially juvenile passengers, were some of the old salts, the old salts that are found in the sailors' missions. So various seamen's organizations have been asked to nominate their best yarn spinners and an official board will pass judgment.

Operation Saves Eye Of Alameda Teacher

SAN JOSE, April 26.—Dr. J. S. Staub this morning performed a delicate surgical operation upon Miss Margaret Heure, Alameda school teacher, who attempted suicide by shooting a few days ago, and recovered from her brain the bullet she fired into her head.

Dr. Staub, after the operation, said that he was satisfied that Miss Heure would make a complete recovery and that as a result of the operation this morning she also would recover the sight of her right eye, which it was believed at first had been destroyed.

When Miss Heure recovers from the shock of this morning's operation she will be handed a letter from her mother, in Germany, the first word she has had from her people since 1914. They were in Germany throughout the war and Dr. Staub, through conversations with the girl, is led to believe that she is well and happy.

A committee of citizens has been formed to work for the election of George W. Hatch and Eugene A. Young for school trustees. Hatch and Young qualified at the primaries and they will make a united campaign for these positions.

A statement issued today by the committee is in part as follows: "Because we believe that it is of the highest importance for the future benefit of the Oakland schools that George W. Hatch and Eugene A. Young be elected we intend to wage an active campaign for them. They are both business men of the widest experience and success. They are both past presidents of the Merchants' Exchange of Oakland and both former directors of the Oakland Rotary Club and have long been interested in civic and business affairs. Mr. Young has made an splendid record as a member of the board of education and has always stood for the highest efficiency in the board. Mr. Hatch stands for the same high principles and with the election of these two candidates the high standards in our schools will be maintained."

Candidates Hempstead and Anderson made short talks at the anniversary ball of the I. O. O. F. M. U. in the Bahamas Temple Auditorium. At Franklyn Hall, Fifth and Brush streets, the candidates addressed a meeting presided over by Mrs. Margaret Roberts.

ROBBER SHOUTS AT DEAF VICTIM, BUT ALL IN VAIN

SEATTLE, April 26.—"Can't fix, I'm a dumb, not a gunsmith. Take it away," said V. J. Cummings, when a robber thrust a gun in his face as he sat in his tin shop. Cummings is deaf and could not hear what the highwayman was saying, but insisted he could not fix a gun. The bandit found his shouting futile and left. Cummings, today said his affliction saved him $50 and a valuable watch.

RANCHER IS OUTBOXED BY SHIFTY HORSE

PETALUMA, April 26.—Tony Paula, of Petaluma, is recovering as his home from injuries sustained during what he terms "a boxing match with a horse."

Paula was driving a number of horses from a barn. Suddenly one backed at him and kicking viciously drove Paula to a corner of the barn.

Throwing his arms in front of his face the man attempted to block the flying hoofs, crying for help in the meantime. Twice he was warding off blows but the third volley of kicks smashed through his guard and battered against his face, cutting three deep gashes and bruising his face badly. He was rescued by farm hands and taken to the Petaluma hospital where nearly a score of stitches were taken to close the wounds. He will be scarred for life.

Flood Control Bill Favorably Reported

SACRAMENTO, April 26.—Assemblyman Morrison's $3,000,000 Los Angeles flood control bill was reported to the floor of the Senate today by the finance committee with the recommendation that it be passed.

The "Marshall plan" bill of Assemblyman Crittenden was amended by the committee to cut the appropriation from $200,000 to $200,000 and favorably reported out. The measure provides for a survey of the water resources of the state.

The Senate judiciary committee tabled two bills intended to amend the Workmen's Compensation act. One by G. L. Jones would permit persons on accounting employment to waive rights to compensation benefits, and the other by Manning would take the compensation referees from civil service.

U. S. DEFENDANT IN AIRPLANE SUIT AT SANTA CLARA

Attorneys Arrive At Mission Town To Study Claims of Montgomery Heirs.

SAN JOSE, April 26.—Two patent attorneys representing the United States Government in the action brought against it by the heirs of Prof. James Montgomery, Santa Clara aircraft inventor, for the payment of royalties on airplane patents, arrived in Santa Clara today to study Montgomery's devices. The suit involves several million dollars. Most of the heirs live in the east.

Twenty years ago Montgomery invented a glider and obtained patents on the features he included therein. In subsequent actions against the Wright and Curtiss Airplane interests the Montgomery heirs held that these patents were being infringed. During the war the government took over all vital airplane patents and paid large royalties for their use. The heirs then sued the government for some $8 million dollars. Both patent and royalty suits are awaiting a final decision.

Mothers Flay Dresses Worn By Grandmas

By MILDRED MORRIS, International News Service Staff Writer, Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Everyone picks on the girls and there's grandmother cavorting about dressed like Flapper, the mothers say. It isn't fair, according to the mothers who are here today for the twenty-fifth annual convention of the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' Associations.

"Sweet sixteen" had her inning today and grandmother went on the grill when delegates to the convention "aired" their views on dress reform.

"We should begin with grandmother," said Mrs. Orville T. Bright of Chicago.

"When women of 55 walked the streets in skirts that came nearly to their knees and with rouge on their cheeks, what can we expect from the girls?"

"I can't tell grandmothers nowadays from 16-year-old girls."

The congress, which represents 300,000 mothers and grandmothers, is agreed on the following platform of dressness for high school girls:

No slink stockings
No narrow skirts
No high heels
Many of the delegates advocate a uniform dress, but the majority say "appropriate dress" is enough to urge with the common sense of mothers to decide what is appropriate and what is not.

"Better films" also will be discussed at the convention, which was opened this morning by Mrs. Milton P. Higgins of Massachusetts, national president. The convention will declare for the "single standard of morality" as part of its health program.

THEIR ROBBS WOMAN
A pickpocket yesterday took a purse with $15 in it from Mrs. Hattie Erwin, 1472 Eighth-street, within fifty feet from the desk sergeant's office on the first floor in the city hall. Mrs. Erwin was telephoning and when she left the booth she discovered her purse was missing. The loss was reported to the police.

BOMB SUSPECT IS HELD.
NEW YORK, April 26.—The federal authorities have failed to obtain sufficient evidence to charge Tito Lisi with any connection with the Wall street bomb explosion, but will continue their investigation of him, William J. Flynn, chief of the department of justice's bureau of investigation, said today.

Engineer With Bullet Wound Held by Police

Man Denies Connection With Hold-Up in Which Shots Were Exchanged.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—A revolver fight between Moses Blodes, cigar dealer, of 29 Cassell street, and two bandits who attempted to hold him up at midnight and the apparent victim at the French Hospital of a man with a serious bullet wound in his head, have caused the police to make a rapid investigation. The wounded man, George Miller, a housing engineer of 217 Nineteenth street, protests his innocence of any connection with the highwayman who would Blodes, declaring that he was the victim of a series of attacks all night, was unable to lodge any charge against Miller but the fact that he was "hit" in a fashion similar to one of the bandits has led the police to make the inquiry.

His statement is that he had spent the evening at the sick drink parlor at California street and Presidio avenue and that he had been walking down Cassell street near J. Edgar avenue when he heard two shots, felt a stinging sensation in the head and plunged forward to the pavement. When he recovered he called to a passing motorist and asked to be taken to the hospital. Dr. P. P. Spaulding declared the patient would be able to be moved today.

Legislature May Be Called in September

SACRAMENTO, April 26.—Members of the Los Angeles delegation who claim to be in the confidence of Governor Stephens are quoted as having said that they had been given assurances that the governor will call a special session of the legislature next September to consider reorganization. The legislature has failed to redress the situation and the Senate having requested the governor to call a special session the statements of the Los Angeles legislators in question would seem to have some foundation.

Havana Special, the crack Atlantic Coast Line train, from Miami to New York. What Woods is endeavoring to do, it was stated, is to beat the actual running time of the train, which the craft is doing so far. The boat is being run only about 18 hours out of 24. The boat has no relief crew, while the train has a new crew every few hundred miles. Tomorrow the boat will leave Norfolk for the last dash of its trip to New York. If present running time is maintained the boat will do the trip in less hours' actual operation than the train, it was stated.

PAINT would have saved this Building

Now it's too late

Oakland Public Museum

A Local Landmark that Paint has Preserved in all its Old-time Splendor

Not many years ago the building on the left was new. From underpinning to rafters and shingles, it was sound. Yet here it is today—badly deteriorated and worth little.

The timely use of paint would have kept this building in the finest condition—now, it is too late for paint! Decay and erosion, weather and wear have destroyed it. The surface materials were neglected and the elements were able to attack the structural timbers beneath.

Look at the landmark on the right! Built long before the dilapidated house on the left, it has been protected for years by paint applied at regular intervals. Its timbers have not warped or rotted. It is almost as good today as it was when first built.

Keep your property in good condition.

Don't postpone painting! A little delay will cost you much money in expensive repairs. If you wait too long, your house may be beyond repair.

A SUSPICIOUS REPORT.

Semi-official reports from Tokyo are to the effect that the Japanese government has decided to present what it deems practicable as a basis for adjustment of the dispute with the United States over Yap Island. This basis implies recognition by the United States of the validity of Japan's mandate over Yap, in the first place, and recognition by Japan of America's cable rights, in the second place.

This looks very like one of those projects of diplomatic crookedness of which Japan frequently has been guilty. If the United States should recognize the validity of Japan's mandate over Yap there would be no established cable rights held by the United States. The mandate gives Japan sovereignty over the territory and the right of political government, including control of communication facilities.

This disposition of Yap is the essential thing in the decision of the Supreme Allied War Council of May, 1919, to which the United States then objected and to which objection has been reiterated by the present administration at Washington. Japan probably has in mind the idea that the United States should confirm the war council's award, trusting to obtain subsequently the cable rights from Japan. This cannot be done consistently, for this country claims the cable rights and other rights related to former German territory solely by reason of its share in the war victory of Allied and Associated powers over Germany. This government does not care to look to Japan for the privilege of enjoying those rights.

Other recent reports from Tokyo indicate that Japan is considering the sending to this country of an official mission to discuss all pending differences between the two governments. Such a step does not seem necessary nor does it hold any promise of bringing about satisfactory results. The experiences of the United States with special Japanese missions and ambassadors has been unfortunate.

The double dealing and treacherous conduct of Viscount Ishii in connection with the agreement he negotiated with Mr. Lansing in 1917 cannot soon be forgotten. During his conversation with the American Secretary of State he refrained from mentioning the fact that Japan had sought and secretly concluded with the governments of Great Britain, France and Italy agreements by which all the former German territory and concessions in the Pacific north of the Equator were to be transferred to Japan. Had this information been divulged by the Japanese special ambassador the Lansing-Ishii agreement would necessarily have been cast in a substantially different form.

This secretiveness was not the only grave offense of which Viscount Ishii was guilty. After the agreement was signed he sought a pledge of five days of secrecy before making the contents public. He broke that pledge and communicated the Japanese interpretation of the agreement to China with a view to building the government at Peking into a new recognition of Japan's dominant position in the Far East.

If Japan is willing to approach the question of adjustment of her differences with this country in a spirit of perfect frankness, fair play, justice and equity, the differences will disappear within a week. No special mission will be necessary. And if she is not ready and willing to assume this attitude a special mission would have no good results.

RETARDED ENERGY.

The peculiar and amazing characteristic of radium is the extraordinary amount of energy stored in the radium atom. Mr. Floyd W. Parsons in the May World's Work observes that if a vial could be found to get one gram of radium to discharge in one minute all the energy it will eventually discharge in twenty thousand years, there would be sufficient power in this one gram to raise out of the water all of the dreadnaughts in all of the navies of the world.

Radium is always releasing some of its energy. Glass tubes and metallic cases, serve only to retard its flow. The secret of bringing about the near instantaneous release of all the power a quantity of radium may contain would probably bring fearful results.

But no such danger relates to the human machine. Most of us have lots of energy which is kept under restraint, either consciously or unconsciously. There are many persons who seem to be encased in a lead jacket so far as the flow of energy is concerned. The problem, almost exclusively one for the individual, is the timely release and the intelligent direction of this energy. There may not be enough latent power to raise a battleship out of the water, but there may be sufficient to help turn the wheel of progress just a little.

PROBLEMS OF FOREIGN TRADE.

Dr. Frank M. Surface, one of THE TRIBUNE'S Washington correspondents, stoutly maintains the view that the formulation of a schedule of higher tariffs on imports must be approached with great care if they are not to injure the American export business by provoking retaliatory burdens by countries to which our exports are sent. In a recent despatch he comments, without attempt to make a point to any argument, however, upon the condition of the trade between this country and Canada and between this country and Mexico.

This authority points out that it is generally admitted that the stimulation of foreign trade is one of the things greatly needed in our present business depression. To most people this means stimulation of trade with Europe. But until economic conditions in Europe become more settled no significant improvement in that region can be hoped for.

The opportunity of foreign trade expansion, it naturally follows, must be looked for in other fields, preferably nearer at home. Dr. Surface discusses the transactions with our two immediate neighbors as an example. Our total trade with Canada last year amounted to $1,580,000,000 of which $971,000,000 were exports. With Mexico our total trade was less than $388,000,000. Yet Mexico has a population nearly double that of Canada. The following table gives a few comparisons between Mexico and Canada:

	Mexico	Canada
Area—square miles	1,957,954	2,960,210
Population, 1910	15,125,012	7,206,642
Cult. land—acres	30,027,500	42,602,000
Total exp., 1918	$238,000,000	$1,259,935,235
Total imp., 1918	$192,000,000	$16,443,422

In the past we have always exported more goods to Canada than we have imported, while with Mexico the reverse is true. The following table gives our trade with these two countries for the last nine fiscal years:

There has been considerable improvement in our trade with Mexico during the last year. Imports from there increased $11,000,000, while exports increased about $23,000,000. Exports are now nearly three times what they were before the war, and imports are a little more than double in value. If the figures for the calendar year 1920 are taken, the showing is still more favorable. Exports to Mexico during that period totalled $207,854,000, and imports amounted to $180,191,000.

Our trade with Canada has also increased in volume in recent years, but comparing this with the prewar period, imports have increased faster than exports. Our trade with Canada in the calendar year 1920 also showed a material increase in value over the fiscal year. Exports amounted to $971,854,000, and imports to $611,788,000.

These observations are presented as possibly showing the complicated character of international trade. That a protective tariff for American industry is essential to the maintenance of American standards of living hardly permits any longer of serious argument. And such protection must be provided by the government. But there are adjustments of a delicate nature to be aimed at. If possible nothing should be done that will restrict foreign markets for American manufactured products, else we shall be open to the charge of ignoring opportunities to expand our foreign trade.

SOUTH AMERICAN FRIENDSHIP.

President Harding's journey to New York today for the purpose of unveiling the monument to J. Edgar Hoover is more than a graceful act of courtesy. It is a declaration of his desire to cultivate friendly relations with the South American republics. The Venezuelan patriot and liberator is a great historic figure, but it is clear that in coming to honor to his memory the President wishes to make a gesture of friendship to all South America. Already he has indicated that there were that it is his hope and purpose to make a cordial understanding with our neighbors to the south a settled and permanent part of his foreign policy. His championing of the Colombian treaty, at the risk of offending some leaders of his own party, is strong evidence of his intentions in that regard.

For many years this country has talked a great deal about doing good to the South Americans, but except how has not got on far with it. Mr. Harding's recognition of a Pan-American conference was never able to make much headway against the deep-seated prejudices of the Republican Party. And even Secretary Baker's South American tour, with his address couched in the language of broad statesmanship and friendly sympathy, did not clear away the obstacles to a cordial understanding with our neighbors to the south.

Many official declarations that the United States did not and would not seek a foot of South American soil were well understood and applauded by Latin American statesmen and newspapers; but cynics did not fail to point to the presence of American marines in Nicaragua, as in Haiti and Santo Domingo.

It is beyond doubt that a great field for trade and for international co-operation lies before us to the south. The new administration does well to seek to enter it more fully. But the South Americans are not all made up of sentiment. They will politely respond to appreciative and hospitable words, but they themselves have a Spanish proverb equivalent to our "fine words butter no parsnips." And they will eagerly for American legislation making conferences easy and profitable, in place of obstructive tariffs. Unless something is done to bind the South Americans to the United States in trade, the United States will be the loser. The effect of eloquent declamatory speeches will not be great or permanent.—New York Times

NOTES and COMMENT

The pleasantry of gopping the legislative clocks to get around the point that might be raised because of prolonging the session after the clocks would normally indicate legal quitting time is foreshadowed. There is no popular account of a question ever having been raised as to the legality of such proceeding, though it would be interesting to have it demonstrated whether it is within legal bounds or not.

Senator Scott's bill, which provides a constitutional amendment authorizing four-round boxing bouts, to be regulated by a commission controlled by war veterans, was defeated by a narrow margin. Laws recognizing pugilism, since the disclosures of the Howard street slack, in which so many pugilists figured, do not receive the support that they once did.

Great barriers which formerly were impassable in a practical way are being negotiated by the automobile. "Joy Riders" from the Argentine have arrived at Santiago, Chile, having traveled 1190 miles over the highest and most rugged elevations on the continent. The purpose is to encourage motor communication over the Andes. It must be a considerable ride, furnishing thrills that few if any other routes are equal to.

The original Maud seems to hail from Nevada. The tale told in a despatch is to the effect that a man residing in Paradise Valley, that state, was bitten by a mule, and hypochondria is feared. Mule bites may be funny in the illustrated supplement, but the Nevada rancher must find them serious enough.

"United States gets new Berlin offer." If this refers to the reparations matter the misssive seems to have been misdirected. France is the country most interested in this subject and about the only one with which negotiations may be carried on that are likely to get anywhere.

Mothers are always to be respected, but there may be finicky persons with mental reservations as to the title of American War Mothers' Association. "War mothers" doesn't convey the idea that is generally associated with mothers. However, it should not be a struggle to understand it to mean mothers of those who took part in the war. But possibly it might have been better stated.

"Nipponese press sees hope of settling Yap case." It is an object which should not be difficult to discern from the angle commanded by the Nipponese. All that is necessary is for the Nipponese to reach and get out. The settlement will then be amicably cleared up.

That they do not all feel one way in Berkeley is illustrated in the fact that the total vote for mayor at the recent election was 12,806, and that the successful candidate received a majority of only 38. As the campaign was noticeably vigorous there may be subsequent proceedings.

A joke wherein a graveyard figures is not always accepted as real fun, but the rural authorities in the state of New York who erected the sign, "Private cemetery across the bridge for reckless drivers," combined humor with a warning which nobody can reasonably object to.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS.

Congressional redistricting of the state means that Contra Costa and San Joaquin counties are to be made a part of the Fourth district, with Stanislaus, Mariposa, Mono, Tuolumne, Calaveras, Alpine, Amador, El Dorado and Placer. That places the political power of the Fourth in the hands of Contra Costa and San Joaquin counties.

From being an important part of a Congressional district, will become a secondary. Congressman Curry will, of course, represent the Third District, as at present, which will include Sacramento, Solano, Yolo and Napa.—Byron Times.

One hundred and fifty Salvation Army boarders who held out at industrial headquarters of the home, are out on the street until accommodations can be secured. The industrial home, which was burned on the evening of the 15th, at a loss of $25,000, had more than fifty sleepers who were aroused by two policemen, and narrowly escaped with their lives. Some of these men had lived at the home for fifteen years.—Richmond Terminal.

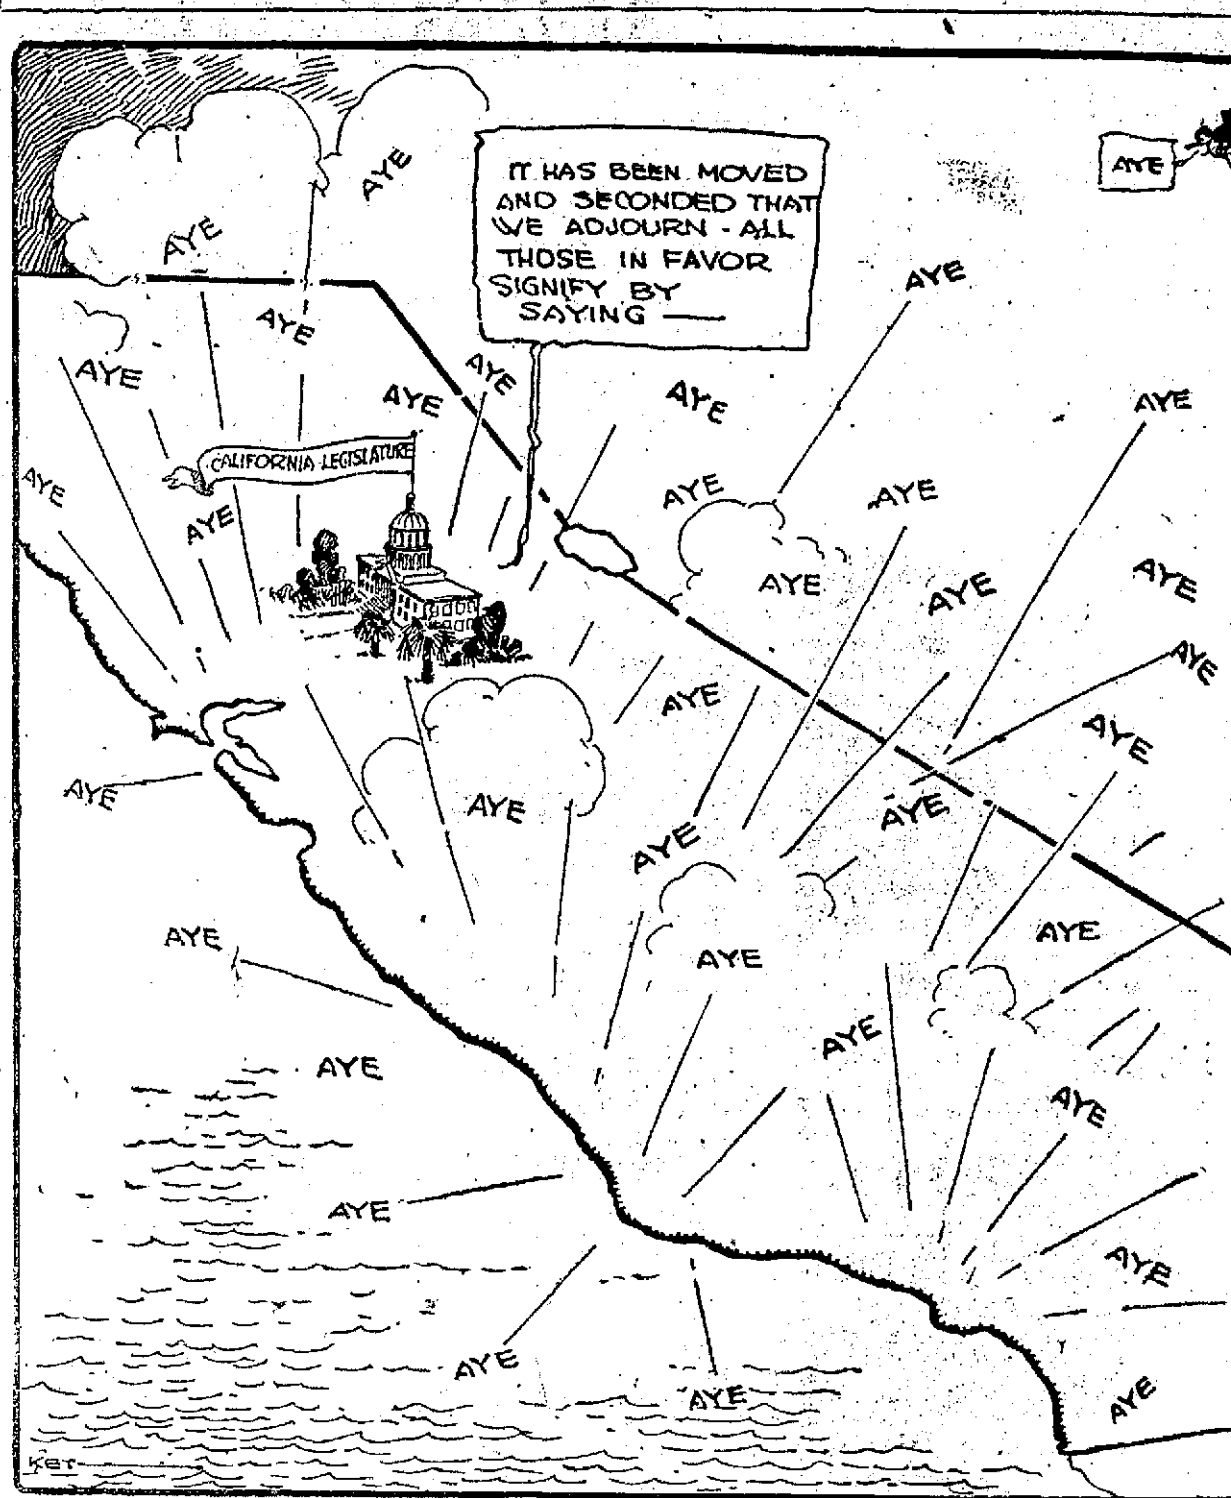

The Great Western Cattle Company, in which a few Dixon men had stock, has had to go out of business, paying its stockholders 75 per cent on the dollar. This company was organized by strong, reliable cattle men and well equipped. It prospered for awhile, but when the general slump came it had to quit business.—Dixon Tribune.

Nothing could be more appropriate than the erection as proposed, in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, of a statue of John McLaren, the park superintendent. There with Robert Emmet, Thomas Starr King and other great men of this country, his fellow countryman, Bobby Burns, he will not be outclassed.—Chicago Enterprise.

California's luxury tax of $3,500, 275,68 for one year has been segregated and shows the following divisions: Amusements, $1,441,909.72; Billiards and bowling, $44,805.04; automobiles, $165,590; jewelry, $55,993.42; guns, $508,744; cosmetics, $92,534; clubs, $128,747; and tobacco, $1,739,183.06.—Stockton Record.

TAXES IN THE PHILIPPINES.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

Your issue of April 23, publishes an editorial under the head "A Philippine Shindig," which quotes former President Taft as stating that the government of the Philippine Islands has imposed such heavy taxes on American business concerns in the islands that it has become exceedingly difficult for those concerns to remain in business. And you add that, stated in another way, the Philippine government is taxing American business out of existence in the islands.

I have not read the Taft article referred to, but am inclined to think that an error has been made. There is absolutely no warrant in fact for inferring that the Philippine government is unjust to Americans or has in any way discriminated, in matters of taxation, against any element of the foreign business community. There is no loss against those concerns owned or controlled by Americans.

In the Philippines business as well as personal and real estate taxes apply equally to all regardless of nationality, while as compared to taxes here the rates are extremely moderate. I might mention that there is in force in the islands a sales tax, there termed the business tax, which has been in operation for about fifteen years, with results entirely favorable. This tax was originally fixed at one-third of 1 per cent of gross sales or income in the case of common carriers, etc., but in 1915 the rate was advanced to a flat 1 per cent, at which it has since continued in effect. There is derived from this source alone nearly one-third of the total of insular revenues.

But while the Philippine government does not discriminate in the matter of taxation, against American concerns in business in the islands the United States government does so discriminate. Americans in business in the Philippines, as well as those in business in foreign countries, are actually penalized by their own government, for they are required to pay United States taxes on their income there in addition to local taxes, which places them at a disadvantage in competition with rivals in the field and will eliminate them as competitors unless our government is made to realize the gravity of the situation and adopts remedial measures.

While the proposition is of importance because of its direct effect upon Americans concerned as individuals, it is of vital importance to American business in the effect that it is bound to have on our foreign trade. In order that the situation may be more clearly understood I will give an example of how the double taxation proposition operates. Two concerns in Manila are in similar lines of business, competing directly with each other. One is foreign and the other American. The business of each shows a book profit for a year of say $100,000. The Philippine income tax on this would be $7,000, which both have to pay, but the American concern is obliged to pay the United States income tax as well, which in this case would amount to more than $31,000. No advantage whatever accrues to the American concern by reason of the fact that it is American—for the contrary it is penalized for that very fact.

One does not have to possess the qualities of a prophet in order to tell or rather to foretell where American foreign enterprise will prosper under conditions like this.

HAROLD M. PITT.

about YOUR HEALTH

Why Personal Cleanliness Is Safeguard Against Typhus

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
Commissioner of Health, New York City.

There is always more dread of a fifth disease than of any other kind of ailment. It is revolting to think of the origin of such an attack. The victims suffer from the disease itself and also from the nastiness of it. Typhus fever is one of this sort. Under the name of "hail fever" it has been dreaded for centuries. The infection is carried and spread by lice. Bad housing and filth are responsible for conditions which are favorable to its progress.

As typhus has its carriers, healthy persons may harbor the infection. Well persons may carry the disease to distant places and thus be responsible for cases in the most unexpected points. Whenever there are lice or conditions favorable to the transmission of lice, there is danger of typhus.

The onset of the disease takes place from ten to twenty days, usually about twelve days after infection. Headache is the most constant of the preliminary symptoms. In a well defined case there is a marked chill, or a succession of milder chills.

The headache, prostration, backache, headache, general feeling of illness and fever drive the patient to bed. The fever grows worse, the face becomes red, the pulse rapid and the tongue furred. There are delirium and stupidity, or else wild delirium.

After three or four days a rash comes out on the abdominal and chest walls. Later, the face, arms and legs may be covered. At first the red and mottled skin is only on the surface—pressure of the finger will cause it to bleach out. Later, pressure has no appreciable effect. In children the rash is so much like measles it has often led to a wrong diagnosis.

As the disease progresses all the symptoms grow worse. After a week or ten days the delirium becomes more marked and the fever is greatly increased. The victim lies in a stupor. He may be unconscious even though his eyes are open.

In fatal cases the fever may rise to 103 degrees. In favorable cases the fever drops and suddenly there is an abrupt change for the better. There is a mild form of typhus called "brill's disease." This is now considered identical with the real disease.

The fatalities from the disease differ with the locality and the general conditions of the population. It is very fatal in Europe. In the war it swept countries because of the lowered vitality of the people. It is said that in Russia half the doctors have died from it, and in Balkans there are not seventy-five doctors left alive.

During the past hundred years nearly 50 per cent of the doctors attending the typhus wards in Ireland have died of the disease.

The usual mortality varies from 10 to 50 per cent. The sudden onset, chill, prostration, stupor, and particularly the blood change shown by what is called the "Felix-Widal reaction," and later the peculiar eruptions of the skin, are the important diagnostic symptoms. The treatment is similar to that of typhoid fever.

Personal cleanliness is the way of safety. Typhus fever is transmitted in only one way—body lice. It is needless to say more to Americans, the cleanest as well as the best informed of peoples.

EARLY BLAZE IN HOTEL CAUSES GUESTS TO FLEE

Small Fire in Kitchen Leads To Considerable Excitement At Claremont.

Fire which started in the kitchen of the Hotel Claremont at 6:30 o'clock this morning caused a flight of guests from the hotel, and resulted in a spectacular display of rescue work on the part of the firemen who aided the guests down from the fire escapes after they had fled in night attire.

The entire kitchen was put out of commission by the flames. The fire started from an overflow of oil from one of the burners, and the flames filled the room before the oil could be turned off. The alarm was given and both the Oakland and Berkeley fire departments responded, as the hotel is situated near the dividing line of the two cities.

Immediately after the flames broke out smoke escaped into the halls of the hotel, and the fire alarm was sounded. Guests, some of them wearing only night attire, while others paused to put on a few clothes, ran to the fire escapes, and in the confusion firemen were called upon to render assistance in helping women and children to the ground. The fire did not penetrate the hotel proper. The kitchen is a one-story building adjoining the hotel. The entire kitchen equipment was put out of commission and guests were required to go elsewhere for breakfast.

Manager Carl Anderson of the hotel places the loss at several hundred dollars. He says that he sounded the alarm as a precautionary measure, but that at no time was there any danger.

Among the guests who were aroused by the alarm were: Mr. and Mrs. Astor Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. Norma Helen and Donna Perkins; Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Nelson and Mrs. Valentine McGillicuddy.

SIGHTLESS MAN NOT 'LOVE BLIND,' HE TELLS COURT

"Love may be blind, but being blind doesn't necessarily mean that love will follow," said Clarence Juckett, as he walked out of Superior Judge T. W. Harris' court today with his divorce decree in a vest pocket next to his heart. Juckett, who was married to Edith I. Juckett on January 21, 1921, is a blind newsdealer with a stand on one of Oakland's main streets. The matrimonial venture was meteoric, for one evening he came home to find a man walking out of his wife's room. Juckett states he tried to grab the man, but being blind did not succeed and was unable to follow. When questioned as to why she left her home, the man, his wife declared she was teaching him to embroider, Juckett said. He also testified that she attempted to cut his head with a cleaver.

State's $11,000,000 Melon Crop Periled

WASHINGTON, April 26.—High freight rates threatened destruction of California's $11,000,000 cantaloupe crop, which cannot be moved east, Senator Shortridge said today. He has been informed in telegrams from bankers and growers. The growers and representatives of the railroads will confer in an effort to agree on lower rates, which the Interstate Commerce Commission will approve, the Senator said.

La Follette Appeals For Irish Sympathy

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The British policy in Ireland is without warrant in law or morals and deserves the condemnation of the world, Senator La Follette, Republican of Wisconsin, declared in repeating his speech on the Irish question in the Senate today. "It is founded upon falsehood and greed and unless arrested it can come to a issue except the extermination of the Irish people," he continued. "The sympathy of the American people is and should be with Ireland in her struggle with England."

Bay District Judges Win Pay Raise Plea

SACRAMENTO, April 26.—Superior Court judges will have their salaries raised by $1000 as a result of action taken by the Senate finance committee today. Speaking for the bill before the committee were: Judge James G. Quinn of Oakland and Judge Van Nostrand of San Francisco.

Guests Hasten from Hotel MISS DONNA PERKES, one of the guests at the Hotel Claremont who was aroused by alarm of fire.

Several Perish; Damage Great in Arkansas Storm

Deaths Reported in Section
South of Pine Bluff;
Floods Hit Texas.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., April 26.—Several persons were reported killed or injured in a storm which wrecked houses in a farming section near Dumas, fifty miles southeast of here this morning. Wires are down and communication with Dumas is interrupted.

TEXARKANA, Ark., April 26.—Torrential rains last night and early today flooded 3000 acres of land around Texarkana, doing property damage estimated at more than $100,000 and put the city pumping station out of commission with the result that Texarkana is without fire protection or water for commercial or residential use.

DALLAS, Tex., April 26.—Floods following heavy rains were reported today in sections of east Texas, suspending some railway traffic and possibly damaging farms, truck and fruit lands.

Texas & Pacific locomotives, marooned in the roundhouse at Marshall, were dragged out with cables.

MUSCATINE, Ia., April 26.—The tornado which struck southeastern Iowa late yesterday extended over a wide territory. West Liberty, Columbus Junction, Atalissa and Nichols reported damage to buildings. No fatalities were reported.

'Twelfth Night' To Be Repeated Tomorrow

BERKELEY, April 26.—Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," in all its beauty, will be repeated tomorrow night at the Greek theater.

A cast composed of both campus and community players presents in a faithful fashion the spirit of the time in which Shakespeare put forth the play. The stage setting shares the honors with the acting. To round out the production an orchestra of orchestra players, costumes and playing upon soft reed and string instruments accompanies the songs of Feste, the clown, played by Baldwin McGowan.

Lloyd Corrigan as Sir Toby and W. L. Robertson as Sir Andrew are an irresistible pair in the costumes Edwards has designed for them.

Military tanks are now being used for logging in France.

MAN 'STRUTTED WITH CHICKENS,' DECLARES WIFE

Navy Steward Accused of Neglecting Home and Family For Other Women.

That her husband strutted around in his U. S. Navy uniform with other women, leaving her at home with her baby, that he told her he did not love her any longer and said that the child was not his, are some of the accusations made against William F. Haynes by Lydia S. Haynes in a divorce complaint just filed. She says that Haynes is stationed at San Diego and makes $145 a month. Haynes is a commissioned steward for the navy, the wife asserts. She asks $50 a month alimony and two small children.

According to the wife's complaint, her husband "strutted about with chickens" on the beach at San Diego and neglected his family. That Haynes is experienced in trying to reform a woman who admitted that she had been an inmate of resorts in San Francisco, Sacramento and Stockton was a failure, was the statement of George Axel Erickson in a divorce affidavit charging Mamie Erickson with many offenses.

Erickson was married to Erickson in 1918, and Mrs. Erickson fled from her home, the husband says, February 5, 1920.

"I will prove that Kirk Crow is the father of my child," is the remark that Alvin R. Barnshaw is alleged to have made to his wife, Ethel I. Barnshaw, according to her divorce complaint.

Mrs. Barnshaw bases her charges of "cruel and inhuman conduct" on this alleged accusation and upon the further contention that he called her a "fool" and other vile names and did not provide for herself and 9 months old Alvin Jr. They were married March 30, 1920, and separated February 23, 1921.

Mrs. Barnshaw asks $75 a month alimony.

Who America Did Failed to Do at Paris

Robert Lansing Proceeds today to recount 'special extreme reluctance' an incident with President Wilson at Paris. This incident, or 'unpleasant episode,' caused Lansing to reach a sudden decision to take no further part in the preparation or revision of the text of the covenant of the League of Nations. While Lansing favored peace first and the covenant later, Wilson could think of nothing but the covenant.

CHAPTER XI

The Conferences of January 10 and 20, 1919

The national safety and economic welfare of the United States were at stake in the War of Secession, although the attempt to secede resulted from institutional rather than ethnic causes. The same was true when in the Papineau Rebellion of 1837 the French inhabitants of the province of Lower Canada attempted for ethnic reasons to free themselves from British sovereignty.

Had the right of "self-determination" in the latter case been recognized as "imperative" by Great Britain, the national life and economic growth of Canada would have been strangled because the lines of communication and the commercial routes to the Atlantic seaboard would have been across an alien state. The future of Canada, with its vast undeveloped resources, its very life as a British colony, depended upon denying the right of "self-determination." It was denied and the French inhabitants of Quebec were forced to accept the will to accept British sovereignty.

Experience has already demonstrated the unwisdom of having given currency to the phrase "self-determination." As the expression of an actual right, the application of which is universal and invariable, the phrase has been repudiated or at least violated by many of the terms of the treaties which brought to an end the World War. Since the time that the principle was proclaimed, it has been the excuse for turbulent political elements in various lands to resist established governmental authority; it has induced the use of force in an endeavor to wrest the sovereignty over a territory or over a community from those who have long possessed and exercised it. It has formed the basis for territorial claims by avaricious nations. And it has introduced into domestic as well as international affairs a new spirit of disorder, which is an evil to permit the principle of "self-determination" to continue to have the apparent sanction of the nations when it has been in fact thoroughly repudiated.

NOT DISPOSED TO RECEIVE CRITICISMS
The President, to which I refer, the President's original draft of a Covenant, which was at the time in typewritten form, and indicated the features which he considered fundamental to the proper organization of a League of Nations. I pointed out certain provisions which appeared to be objectionable in principle, but I was not prepared to discuss them. He was unwilling to discuss them. He also said with great candor and emphasis that he did not intend to have lawyers' drafts in good part. Although this declaration was called forth by the statement that the legal advisers of the American Commission had been at my request preparing an outline of a treaty, a "skeleton treaty," in fact, the President's sweeping disapproval of members of the legal commission participating in the treaty-making seemed to be, and I believe was, intended to be notice to me that my counsel was unwelcome. Being the only lawyer on the delegation, I naturally took this remark to myself, and I know that other American Commissioners held the same view of its purpose.

It is a belief, unjustified, as I only regret that I did not persevere in my criticisms and suggestions, but I could not do so believing as I then did that a lawyer's advice on any question not wholly legal in nature was unacceptable to the President, a belief which, up to the present time, I have had no reason to change.

It should be understood that this account of the conference of January 10 is given by way of explanation of my conduct subsequent to it and not in any spirit of complaint or condemnation of Mr. Wilson's attitude. He had a right to his own opinion, and I believe that a lawyer's advice and a right to act in accordance with that opinion. If there was any injustice done, it was in his asking lawyers to prepare a "skeleton treaty," thereby giving the impression that he desired his counsel and advice as to the negotiations in general, when in fact he did not. Disregarding the personal element in his course, as the entire constitutional responsibility for the negotiation of a treaty was on his shoulders and he was, in the performance of his duty, entitled to seek advice from those only in whose judgment he had confidence.

BREACH TOO WIDE, DEEP TO BE HEALED
In spite of this frank avowal of prejudice by the President, there was no outward change in the personal or official relations between him and myself. The breach, however, regardless of appearances, was too wide and too deep to be healed. While sullying the negotiations temporarily, it remained until my association with President Wilson came to an end in February, 1920. I never forgot that I was always free in his mind, and I never even when he sought my opinion, were tainted with legalism.

As it seemed advisable, in view of the incident of January 10, to have nothing to do with the drafting of the Covenant unless the entire theory was changed, the fact that there prevailed at that time a general belief that a preliminary treaty of peace would be negotiated in the near future invited an effort to delay the consideration of a complete and detailed report of the League of Nations until the definitive treaty or a separate treaty dealing with the League alone was considered. As delay would mean time to reflect and discuss the subject and prevent hasty acceptance of an undesirable or defective plan, it seemed to me that the advisable course to take was to limit reference to the organization in the preliminary treaty to general principles.

The method that I had in mind in carrying out this policy was to secure the adoption, by the Conference on the Preliminaries of Peace, of a resolution embodying a series of declarations of principle, the nature and the purpose of the League of Nations, which declarations could be included in the preliminary treaty of peace accompanied by an article providing for the negotiation of a detailed plan based on these declarations at the time of the negotiation of the definitive treaty or else by an article providing for the summoning of a world conference in which all view of the shortness of time before he would be compelled to return to Washington on account of the approaching adjournment of Congress, it would be well to prepare a resolution of this sort and to have it adopted in order that it might clear the way for the determination of other matters which should be included in a preliminary treaty. From the point of view of policy I advanced the argument that a series of declarations would draw the fire of the opponents and critics of the League and would give opportunity for an expression of American public opinion which would make possible the final drafting of the charter of a League in a way to win the approval of the great mass of the American people and in all probability insure approval of the Covenant by the Senate of the United States.

In reviewing what took place at this conference I realize now, as I did not then, that it was impolitic for me to have presented an argument based on the assumption that changes in the President's plan might be necessary, as he might interpret my words to be another effort to revise the theory of his plan. At the time, however, I was so entirely convinced of the expediency of this course, from the President's own point of view as well as from that of view of those who had first place to restoring peace, that I believed he would see the advantage to be gained and would adopt the course suggested. I found that Mr. Wilson, without discussing the subject said that he did not think that a resolution of that sort was either necessary or advisable.

While this definite rejection of the proposal seemed to close the door to further effort in that direction, I decided to make the best of the situation by abandoning the plan. The next afternoon (January 21) at a meeting of the Council of Ten, the discussion developed in a way that gave me an excuse to present the proposal informally to the Council. The advantage to be gained by adopting the suggested action apparently appealed to the members, and their general approval of it impressed the President, for he asked in an undertone if I had prepared the resolution. I replied that I had been working upon it, but had ceased when he said to me the day before that he did not think it necessary or advisable. He said that I had been obliged to me if I would prepare one. Encouraged by the support received in the Council and by the seeming willingness of the President to give the proposal consideration, I proceeded at once to draft a resolution.

The task was not an easy one because it would have been useless to insert in the document any declaration which seemed to be contradictory of the President's theory of an affirmative guaranty of which was not sufficiently bold to be introduced in other terms in the event that American public opinion was decidedly opposed to his theory, as I felt that it could be. It was also desirable from my point of view, that the resolution should contain a declaration in favor of the equality of nations of equal rights, and the establishment of an oligarchy of the Great Powers, and another declaration which would give proper place to the administration of legal justice in international disputes.

Lansing in his next installment welcomed a high resolution with the resolution, the President, apparently, had reluctantly authorized.

An immediate restoration of peace was as I then saw it, of vital importance to the world as it was the universal demand of all mankind. To delay for the purpose of completing the organization of a League of Nations or for any other purpose than the formulation of essential terms seemed to me to be taking a risk as to the future, which was warranted by the relative importance of the subjects. There is no question in the light of subsequent events that the President's judgment was correct. The League of Nations possessed a greater power of resistance to the temptations of lawlessness and disorder than was presented in the winter of 1918-19. And yet it was a critical time. Anything might have happened. It would have taken very little to turn the tide. What occurred later cannot excuse the delay in making peace. It was the good fortune that the impulses of peoples had been so strong in the winter of 1918-19. And yet it was a critical time. Anything might have happened. ## CHARLIE PICK, OF THE SENATORS, IS MAKING LIFE MISERABLE FOR COAST LEAGUE PITCHERS

CHARLIE MILLER IS DOING SOME USEFUL HITTING AND RUNNING FOR OAKS

of Portland and G inglandi of Salt Lake hitting Their Base H its With Regularity.

By EDDIE MURPHY

Charley Pick, third-sacker for the Sacramento Coyotes, is leading the Pacific Coast League for the first three weeks of the season, and fans no doubt will wonder more than ever how the Seal was able to slip out of the major leagues so easily. Pick, who is the reason for him being let out of the big brush, but none of the boys in the league who have played against the third-sacker this season noticed anything wrong with his leg. They say that he looks to be an improved pitcher since he was with the Seals. Charley has an average of .400 in thirty-four hits in eighty-five times at bat.

Cox of the Portland Beavers is another regular in the top of the batting list before a game to Hack Miller, the first of the leading hitters in the league. Hack Miller is at the top of the batting list at week's average, but nobody seemed to keep up the clip of the regulars, Miller is .375.

Cox Going Great Portland Beavers

The surprises in hitting are the Beavers and Henry Gingham. Both are doing well in their hitting, both young men have gained last week. Gingham is hitting .375, and is the major league as soon as he is in the major league. Gingham is hitting .375, and is the major league as soon as he is in the major league.

Miller Tied With Lane, Kopp in Scoring Runs.

Not only is Hack Miller, the leading swifter for the Oakland club, but he is also leading run maker of the league. The big left fielder is tied with his former teammate, Billy Kopp, who is now with Seattle. Kopp of Seattle is listed above all, but as he was only in the top of the batting list at week's average, he is not a danger to the regulars, but just the same, he is not a danger to the regulars, but just the same, he is not a danger to the regulars.

Their Batting Eyes

As Hack Miller in the 300 in the top of the batting list, he is not a danger to the regulars, but just the same, he is not a danger to the regulars, but just the same, he is not a danger to the regulars.

tee members representing the employers, were understood not to have argued for a specific decrease, but presented facts tending to show that they cannot operate at a profit this year at present wage scales.

Members of the workers committee including Mrs. Isabel Schmitz of Berkeley, opposed radical reductions but were willing to concede some changes.

been made through decrease in the number of full pay workers required in the canning plants. No change in the 33 cents an hour minimum paid all but apprentice hands was anticipated from the commission.

SUSPECT SAID TO HAVE KEPT DIARY OF BURGLARIES

Profit and Loss Computations
Made in Each Case,
Police Report.

BERKELEY, April 26.—A diary wherein is recorded the details of more than 100 burglaries committed in all of the principal cities of California was reported by police to have been discovered today among the effects of Floyd Hopkins, who was arrested in Oakland yesterday while attempting to sell a saxophone which police say was stolen from a Berkeley apartment house.

According to the police, Hopkins has confessed the commission of five burglaries in Berkeley, three of which had not been reported. The principal two are the burglary of the Bonta and Illinois apartment houses and according to Chief of Police August Volmer it is on one of these two "jobs" that Hopkins will be prosecuted.

The diary is said to list burglaries according to their dates and applied modern accounting methods to compute the profit or loss on each crime. The burglaries are in Berkeley, Oakland, San Francisco, San Jose, San Diego, Fresno, Stockton, Sacramento, King City and smaller places.

Each entry tells the exact address, how the place was entered, what was found, how it was disposed of and the amount received for it. Against this is checked the expense in carfare, tools, etc., for each job.

Hopkins was arrested by Detectives of the Berkeley Police Department in Oakland.
